A Summer Storm a Risin

Written by Frank Cook
Summer 1992

The day, a hot...oooh Hot!

Sweltering-heat-off blackened-street hot

Sweat-a-pourin-down-cheeks hot.

At a distance there's a sound

A thunder sound

All around

It's a comin

Dark clouds tumble in, winds a start a blowin

Ground aperched, a callin

Raindrops start a fallin

Leaves sit still, soak their fill

Gentle storm a comin

Rollin cackle, roooouuund the Jackal

Children bawlin, People haulin

Their pacin aquickenin.

Raindrops start asmellin

Dogs start ayellin

Lightning striking all around,

Steam aclimbing from the ground

It's a summer stormarisin.
